

Projet SAMP

Santiniketan Anthropological Medical Project

Dr Daniel WIDMER, IUMF, Unil

Dr Patrick OUVRARD, SFTG, Paris

Prof. Ilario ROSSI, Unil, SSP

Unil

UNIL | Université de Lausanne

THEMA - Théorie sociale,
Enquête critique,
Médiations, Action publique

Inputs from general practice

- * 2015 master project – Valentin Simonin
- * 2016 first interprofessional project with la Source
- * 2017 second interprofessional project
- * Included in Communautary Immersion (FBM):
fieldwork research outside the hospital
- * Interprofessionality: nurses, anthropologists, social workers and general practioners

Patrick OUVRARD

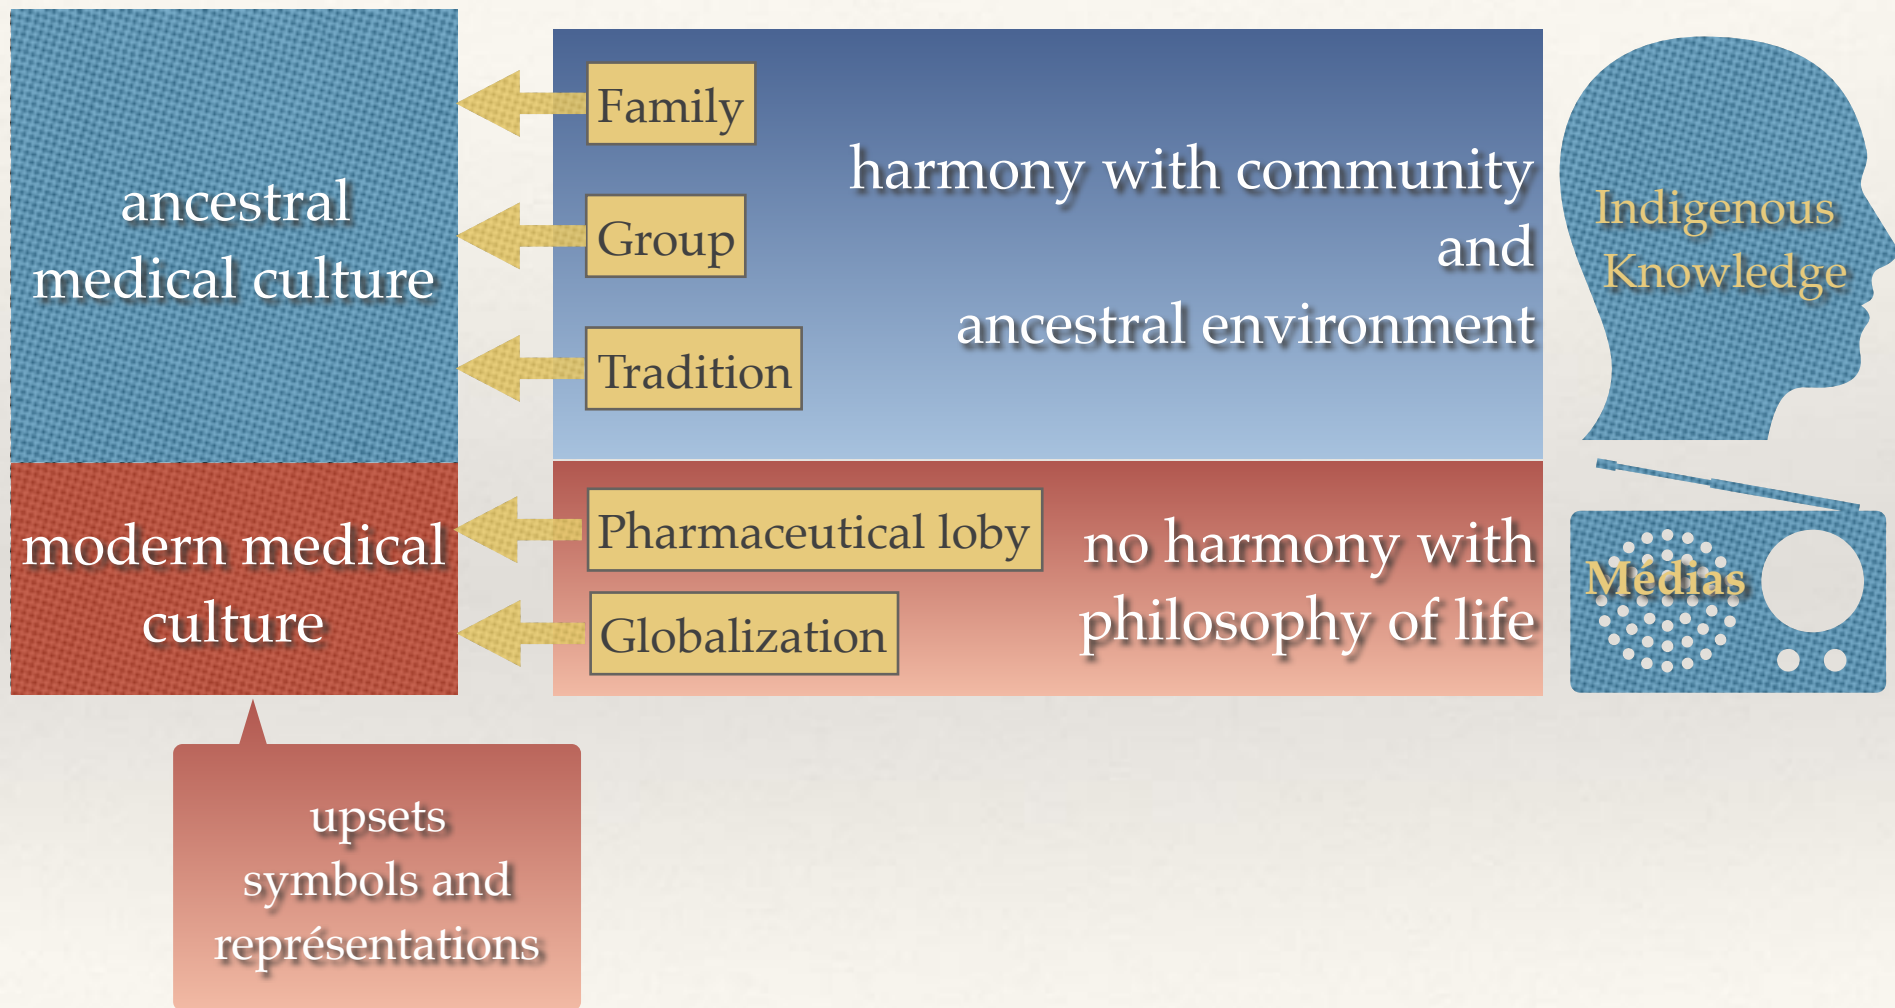

Santal Health Paradigm

Lausanne 2017 October 4

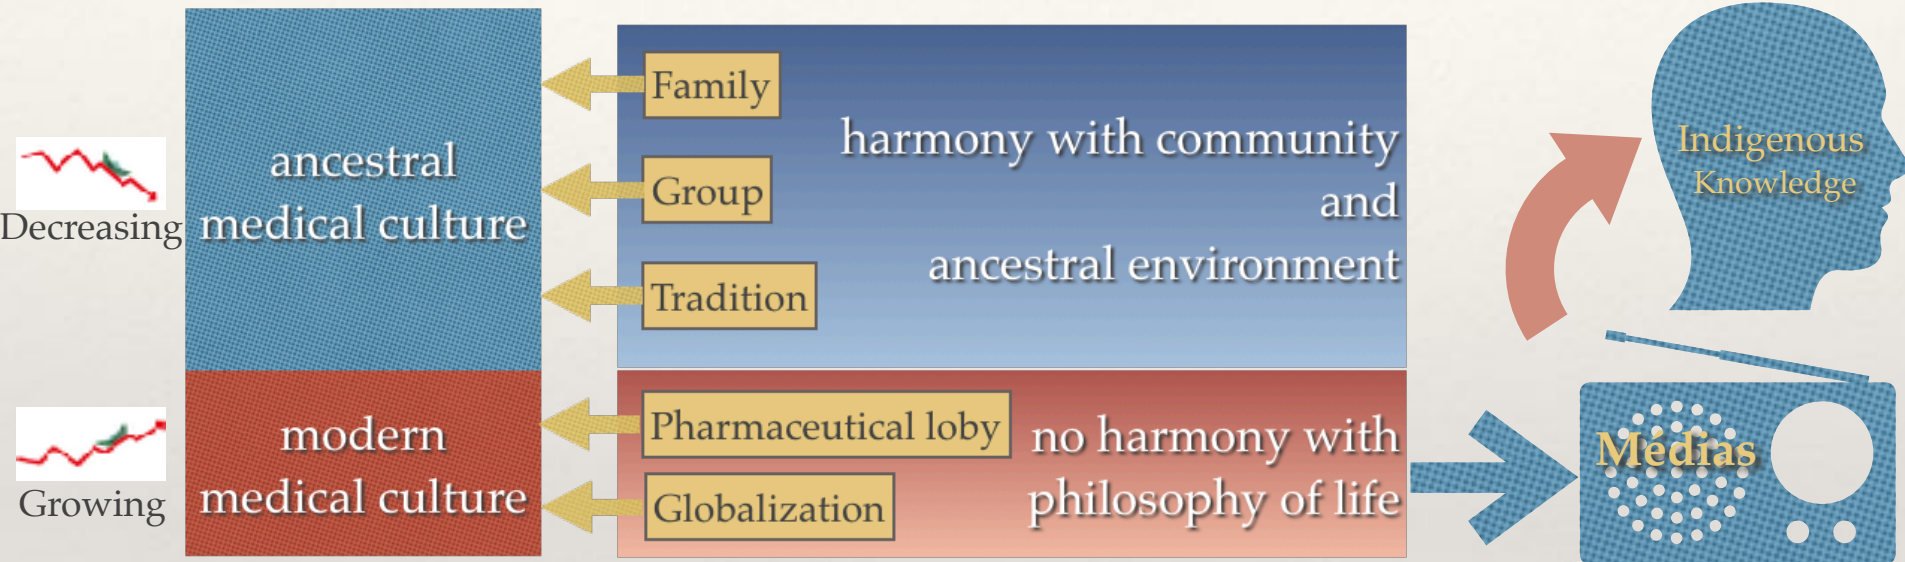

Bio-psycho- social model

Santal medical paradigm

Health defines human and the overall structure of his/her existential, moral and physical experience as well as his/her judgments and actions

Santal medical paradigm

We must valorise Indigenous Knowledge

- ❖ Highlight benefice
- ❖ Highlight relevance
- ❖ Know the limits
- ❖ Encourage its transmission
- ❖ Protect it from plunder

- ❖ Radio
- ❖ Television
- ❖ News paper
- ❖ School/Education
- ❖ Smartphone
- ❖ Advertisement

Pluri Professional
Anthropological Approach is a way to understand the changes of Santal Health management.

How long will Indigenous knowledge persist ?

Is this an announced death of this knowledge or is it a normal and contextual evolution of knowledge ?

Thank You

SAMP. Inputs from anthropology

- * 1. Underline research context:
- * Global health: globalisation of epidemiology, knowledge, medical practices, health policies
- * Diversity and alterity: socio-historical perspective, social and cultural pluralism. Sense of the research activity
- * Local health: care and cure resources. Actors, practices and health organisation. Relationship health – religion.
- * Actual changes: social mutations, access to care, care pathways and therapeutic pluralism

SAMP. Inputs from anthropology

- * 2. Develop health research methodologies in a context of plurality and diversity
- * Clarify research objectives and feasibility
- * Promote ethnography and qualitative research
- * Value inductive approaches (link between practice of fieldwork and theory)
- * Insert in fieldwork by linguistic mediation
- * Value interprofessional interactions and plurality of points of view
- * Produce good legitimate data
- * Place analytic perspectives in context